There is a problem with creating default profiles when there is no public dns on an instance but only numeric public IP. DMGR can be created but it cannot start because of some UDP related errors. I did some investigation but couldn't find the solution so I created a PMR with IBM.

Along with IBM team we finally were able to make WebSphere profiles work when they are created with numeric public ip. It was necessary to change the network configuration:

```
[root@ip-172-30-0-134 midvision]# nmcli con mod "System eth0" ipv4.addresses 184.72.134.110
[root@ip-172-30-0-134 midvision]# nmcli con mod "System eth0" +ipv4.dns 184.72.134.110
[root@ip-172-30-0-134 midvision]# nmcli con up "System eth0"
```

I will add this to Troubleshooting section in our documentation for WASND products on AWS.

Hey mate,

Just tested both WAS 9.0 images and they were fine.

Cheers,

MP
